Press release

A new take-off for the Postal Club

The International Postal Philatelic Club, more commonly known as the Postal Club, held its 8th Triennial General Assembly in Sens (France) on Friday, October 11, 2019, within the context of the philatelic event PHILA-SENS 2019. The purpose of this meeting was to review the results of the past three years before considering the forthcoming multicultural calendar of the association.

Elections were also held for the board of the association; Jean-François Logette was re-elected and confirmed as president. In the new Board, the new vice president Marcel Boueyguet, will be in charge of the organization of the philatelic training sessions; a team composed of Christine Chaunavel (France) and Mostefa Bouzegaou (Algeria) will coordinate the activities aimed towards young people. The secretariat pool was also strengthened in order to acquire visual communication tools (kakemonos, pins, bookmarks, etc.) but also to restart a cycle of visits to security printing companies and firms in charge of editions of catalogs and philatelic supplies. The Belgian-French team entrusted with financial affairs will continue to ensure the financial and economic management of the association.

This General Assembly appointed two honorary members who have rendered outstanding services to the Club: Ms. Cristina Popescu (Romania), Director of RomFilatelia, and Mr. Alessandro Agostosi (Italy), Member of the European Academy of Philately, and a distinguished authority in philatelic matters.

During the PHILA-SENS 2019 event, the Postal Club invited the general public to two philatelic conferences: one on the implications of the Treaty of Versailles for international postal services and the other on a detailed analysis of the international philatelic market.

The Postal Club celebrated its 25th anniversary at Sens and it was an opportunity to organize the traditional annual Club luncheon, which was attended by several distinguished guests, including Mr. Benoît Gervais, President and CEO of Yvert & Tellier Editions. The Postal Club was pleased to learn that Mr. Gervais has decided to join the Postal Club.

The International Postal Philatelic Club (Postal Club) brings together more than 220 members from 28 different countries. It aims to develop relationships and bring together philatelists and collectors belonging to or having belonged to a company related to philately or written or electronic communication, as well as representatives of postal authorities working in the field of philately, security printers, catalog editors and philatelic journalists. The INTERNATIONAL POSTAL PHILATELIC CLUB accepts people from outside the previously defined circle, subject to their approval by the board.

The next triennial general assembly will take place in 2022 in Belgium.
